17th Annual Senior College Symposium, April 20, 2022
U of T Faculty Club, 41 Willcocks (or by Zoom)

What Have We Learned from the Pandemic?

TO JOIN SPEAKERS AND COLLEAGUES AT THE FACULTY CLUB:
early registration $60, after April 6 $75
(refreshments, lunch, post-event reception included)

NOTE: U of T protocols require proof of vaccination for entry, and masks when not eating or drinking.

TO PARTICIPATE BY ZOOM: $20
You will be able to upgrade later to in-person attendance if you wish.

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

Allison McGeer, Mt Sinai Hospital, U of T Institute of Health Policy Management
 Impact and outlook for Ontario healthcare system

Adalsteinn Brown, Co-Chair Ontario COVID-19 Science Advisory Table, Dean of Dalla Lana School of Public Health, U of T
 Data and modelling, science and politics

Andrew Boozary, UHN Centre for Social Medicine
 Overcoming social inequities, including homelessness, barriers to vaccine access

Dawn Bowdish, McMaster Immunology, Institute for Research on Aging
 New knowledge in immunology, application to schooling and longterm care

Linda Hutcheon, U of T English and Comparative Literature, with panelists Antoni Cimolini, Stratford Festival; Barry Hughson, National Ballet; Joel Ivany, Against the Grain Theatre
 Responding economically and creatively to challenges to the arts

Peter Russell, U of T Political Science, Founder of Senior College
 Potentials for global governance as confirmed by the pandemic